Principle Differences Between the Framework Agreement on First Nations Land Management and the Indian Act Delegated Administration

FRAMEWORK AGREEMENT ON FIRST	INDIAN ACT
NATIONS LAND MANAGEMENT (SECTORAL SELF GOVERNMENT)	DELEGATED AUTHORITY Government to government agreement	First passed in 1876 under the provisions of signed in 1996, initiated and created by First	Section 91(24) of the Constitution Act of 1867, Nations for First Nations	in an effort to codify the Royal Proclamation of 1763 Cannot be amended/changed without the	Can be amended /changed without consent of consent of the First Nation Signatories	First Nations First Nation are recognized as "governments"	First Nations are not governments, they are with real legislative authority. Laws	"wards", "Ministerial Delegates" and enforceable in any court of competent	"administrators" with no Law Making jurisdiction. Canada has no authority to	Authority. First Nations may only make legal overrule or cancel duly made laws or decisions	decisions or by-laws that Canada approves of made by First Nations	or that fall within the sections of the Indian Act According to their own authority First Nations	First Nations may:
may:	- Make certain managerial decisions
- Make land laws	- Make certain bylaws Administer land lawsEnforce land laws
- Manage and protect Lands and Resources
Laws, policies, procedures and legal	Indian Act/Federal laws, policies, procedures, instruments are all developed, approved and	rules and legal instruments made by Canada enacted by each First Nation according to its	and must be followed by First Nations own Land Code, unique language, culture and values
Many flexible, diverse and innovative legal	One inflexible law/land management manual land governance approaches developed to suit	and set of legal instruments for all First individual First Nation situations First Nations can create and authorize	Nations No Indian is in lawful possession of land unless different types of legal land interests	the Minister approves. This includes land different types of legal land interests	transfers Ability to enact Environmental	None, only those that may be entered into by Assessment/Protection Laws	contractual arrangement by Canada.
	Enforcement, monitoring, testing and compliance can be problematic Accountability and reporting to membership	Accountability and reporting to Canada Members have clear role in decision making,	Members do not have a clear role in certain approvals, access to and information sharing	decisions nor do they have a right to receive Dispute Pecalution	or access information Dispute Resolution No expropriation by Provincial/Municipal	No dispute resolution Expropriation possible without First Nation agencies. Extremely limited Federal	consent by Federal or Provincial government expropriation in emergencies	for the purposes of crown corporations or municipalities
Regulation backed, paperless, electronic and	Policy based registry that does not guarantee instant land registry which is priority based	land certainty. Overly bureaucratic and and is recognized/supported by financial	lengthy approval times institutions and titles insurance providers Recognized First Nation legal status/capacity	Legal status unclear and uncertain to hold to acquire and hold property, to borrow and	property/enter into binding agreements. This contract, to expend and invest money and to	discourages lenders and other financing be a party to legal proceedings	partners